Software Engineer in Training | Learning Full Stack (React, Node, C++) | Building Real-World Projects for 2026 Roles
Washim, Maharashtra, India

Summary

I'm a software engineer in training, aiming to break into the industry by 2026 with strong, practical full-stack skills. Instead of collecting random certificates, I'm focused on building real projects and actually understanding how things work under the hood.

Right now, I'm working with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, [React], [Node.js], and C++ to strengthen both my frontend and backend foundations. I regularly practice problem-solving and data structures to improve my logic and confidence in technical interviews.

My current priorities:

- Deepen my understanding of core web fundamentals
- Build more polished, deployable projects
- Prepare for software engineering internships and entry-level roles in 2026

If you're a developer, recruiter, or mentor open to sharing guidance or feedback, I'm always willing to learn and improve.
